I do have a link to a cool article from Pitchfork on 20 years of musical moments in The Simpsons however. Good read.

Happy (Early) Halloween

Posted on: 03 Oct 2009

Since Andy made such an awesome looking Halloween design for The Springfield Connection I felt like I should do a little something, so I at least put a Halloween banner up. Maybe I'll throw together some THOH related content too this month if I get around to it. Check back.

Just thought I'd share this with my few remaining readers: Total Film's rundown of the 50 greatest Simpsons movie references. Good list that nails a lot of the more interesting and obscure film references over the years. Fun read for anybody with an interest in cinema.

Hey look, we have a new affiliate. Bart the One and Only is back with a new design, and now fills one of our empty buddy slots. Still looking for others, contact me at NHC if you're interested.

Simpsons Channel Headlines Are Back

Just another minor thing today. Simpsons Channel headlines on the right of the page are fixed after disappearing for a while.

Still A round

Hello to the few people who still occasionally visit this site. This marks my first 'update' in over a year now, which is kind of depressing. No new content at the moment, but some housekeeping stuff has been done (a couple of links updated, a bunch more removed due to so many sites having disappeared recently). The community seems even less alive now than it's ever been, but a few sites like Simpsons Crazy and The Springfield Connection continue to update, which is nice to see. Some new stuff might be showing up here at some point, but my total lack of interest in new episodes isn't exactly good motivation. In the meantime though, I'm looking for some new sites to exchange links with. The buddies section at the bottom of the page has cleared out a bit

Simpsons Channel Redesign, Customary Notification That I'm Not Dead

Posted By: grissom

Posted on: 17 Feb 2008

Yes, I'm still around. Been watching too many movies and spending time on other stuff lately to do any site related things. I'll start up again soon.

In the meantime, the new Simpsons Channel design is pretty amazing. Check it out.

I'm So Sorry. Please Accept These Five Pounds Of Frozen Shrimp

Posted By: grissom

Posted on: 28 Nov 2007

Well it's not all done yet, but I've waited way too long to upload some season 19 stuff, so some of it's here. The episode guide has been updated to include everything that's aired so far, I added a new page in the opinion section called "Predictions," and I've uploaded reviews for "He Loves To Fly and He D'ohs," "The Homer of Seville," and "I Don't Wanna Know Why the Caged Bird Sings." Promo images and additional predicitions and reviews will get done eventually, but I have no idea when. I'm busy lately.

Did You Have The Backwards Talking Card Dream Too?

TSF's annual Halloween update is here, although it's not quite as big as last year. I've got 7 new supernaturally-themed grabpics and a new wallpaper for you. Season 19 content (lots of it) is coming very soon. Watch this space.
